Sue Barrows, owner of the Gold Rush Gaming Parlor, commented in response to Commissioner Williams's concerns regarding the gambling establishment's compliance and indicated that the establishment has not been open to the public since the date on which the Commission ordered the establishment closed.

Commissioner Cruz, indicated that one of the conditions for licensure was that applications for key employee licenses were to be submitted timely and asked Ms. Barrows if she had filed any applications for key employee licenses.

Sue Barrows, in response to Commissioner Cruz indicated that she will be the key employee for the establishment and she will be changing the establishment's hours of operation so that she may be present.

Commissioner Sasaki asked Ms. Barrows what the hours of operation would be and if she would be present at all times that the establishments was open.

Dennis Dorea, former employee of Gold Rush Gaming Parlor, commented to the Commission regarding alleged misconduct in the operation of the gambling establishment by Sue Barrows.

Chairman Shelton indicated that the Division of Gambling Control is the agency responsible for investigation of misconduct of card clubs, and suggested that both Mr. Lewis and Mr. Dorea contact the Division regarding their concerns so that the Division would be alerted of the alleged misconduct and could determine whether an investigation of the gambling establishment was necessary.

Commissioner Williams asked Mr. Dorea if he would be willing to discuss with agents of the Division of Gambling Control the allegations he had just presented to the Commission. Mr. Dorea responded that he would be willing to talk with Division of Gambling Control agents regarding the allegations he presented to the Commission.

Commissioner Williams suggested that the Commission's consideration of the application for Gold Rush Gaming Parlor be tabled pending receipt of an investigation report by the Division of Gambling Control.

Chairman Shelton indicated that he would like to see an investigation conducted by the Division of Gambling Control, and suggested that, since the license renewal currently being considered would expire in January 2006, the Commission consider the application being presented for renewal of the license with the expectation of being provided an investigation report by the Division of Gambling Control for Commission consideration on the subsequent license renewal application.

Chairman Shelton moved to adopt the staff recommendation. Commissioner Sasaki seconded the motion.

Commissioner Cruz asked staff if the General Partnership's partners had their financial background updated. Commissioner Cruz further expressed concerns regarding the city's authorization for the gambling establishment to operate six tables because the city ordinance provides authorization for an establishment to operate up to four tables, and inquired of staff what the city did officially to authorize The Nineteenth Hole to operate six tables.

Deborah DeRosier, Division of Gambling Control, responded to Commissioner Cruz's concerns regarding financial background updates indicating that Division staff conducted an updated investigation on the financial background for all the partners.

Manager Podesto responded to Commissioner Cruz's concerns regarding the city's ordinance for the maximum number of tables indicating that the Division of Gambling Control reviews all local ordinances. Manager Podesto further stated that staff would request further clarification from the Division with regard to the ordinance in question.

Commissioner Sasaki indicated that she also wanted further clarification of Section 5415b of the city ordinance.

Commissioner Cruz stated again that he wanted clarification regarding what official action was taken by the city to authorize the number of tables operated by the gambling establishment. He further asked staff if they were recommending approval of the renewal license application without confirmation that there was any official action taken by the city to authorize additional tables in excess of four tables authorized under the city ordinance.

Manager Podesto indicated that the license renewal application does not include an increase in the number of tables from the current license previously issued by the Commission. Manager Podesto further indicated that staff would research the city's authorization for the gambling establishment to operate more than four tables and would report back to the Commission.

Commissioner Cruz suggested that it may be more appropriate to table consideration of application until the next Commission meeting to allow staff time needed to confirm that there was an official action taken by the city to authorize the number of tables operated by The Nineteenth Hole.

Manager Podesto indicated that the license would expire before the next scheduled Commission meeting and the gambling establishment would be required to close without a renewal license.

Chief Counsel Rickards indicated that the item being presented for Commission approval was the renewal of the current license with no increase in the number of tables, therefore, the Commission could act on the license renewal application being presented. Mr. Rickards further indicated that staff could research the city's authorization of the gambling establishment's tables, and if it is discovered that there was no official action taken by the city, staff could come back to the Commission for further corrective action.

The motion made by Chairman Shelton and seconded by Commissioner Sasaki to adopt the staff recommendation carried in a roll-call vote with Chairman Shelton and Commissioners Sasaki and Williams voting yes, and Commissioner Cruz voting no.
